Success of wireless telegraphy at the yacht race gives added assurance of the success of wireless telegraphy for interisland communication in Hawaii.

Again McKinley names his policy. When presenting Admiral Dewey with the sword voted by Congress, the President said: "There was no flaw in your victory, there shall be no faltering in maintaining it." Not while the President remains our leader will our flag mark a policy of infamy, nor will our nation waver before the responsibilities thrust upon it the circumstance of war.

Late dispatches would indicate that the Olas squatters are not the only ones who were watching the local government in its disposition of public lands. The army and the navy are forces with which our short sighted officials did not reckon. "Brooking no interference" with the federal authorities, particularly of the army, was a danger for which our much esteemed Executive Council has yet to pay the full charge of the addler.

The most satisfactory feature about the news of the great international yacht contest is the assurance that when the wind does come favorably for speed, there will be a race not a procession as in former years. In the two failures to cover the course within the time limit, the challenging yacht is shown to be far superior to any racing machine English yacht builders have turned out in previous years. In Lipton's yacht, the Americans find material worthy of their metal. There is no occasion for Americans to feel dubious over the performance of Columbia. It is the fastest and best yacht ever constructed by American builders, and, while by virtue of the great advances made by the Britishers the cup is in greater danger than ever before, there is no occasion to predict defeat for the defender. Yankee tricks in handling a racer have yet to be learned by our brethren.

News of the Transport.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—The transports City of Para, Zealandia and Valencia sailed tonight for Manila with the Twenty ninth Regiment and a large number of recruits.

The headquarters, staff and band, together with seven companies of the Twenty ninth regiment are on the Para, Colonel E. E. Harlin is in command.

The Zealandia departed with the remaining five companies of Twenty-ninth, under command of H. H. Sergeant. Eleven members of the Signal Corps also left on the Zealandia.

The Valencia takes about 500 recruits in charge of Captain Hardin of the Eighteenth Regiment.

Andree Buoy Found.

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 2.—The buoy marked "Andree Polar Expedition" which, with an anchor attached, was found Sept. 9 on the north coast of King Charles island by the master of the Norwegian cutter Martha Larsen, was opened yesterday in the presence of a number of experts and members of the Cabinet. It was found to be the so-called North Pole buoy which Andree had arranged to drop if he succeeded in passing the Pole.

Picking Walker.

Invitations have been received in town by friends of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Walker to the marriage of their daughter, Frances Pickering to Dr. John Jenks Thomas on Saturday, October 21, 1899 at All Souls Church, Washington, D. C.

HONOLULU MAN WHO SAW THELYRICS.

The people of this city are certainly migratory in their inclinations. Most of them have seen the world in its entirety. Their names are inscribed upon the hotel registers of every first-class canvassary on the globe with Honolulu affixed in glowing pride. An hour's notice is sufficient time for them to make up their minds for a tour, while it would take, at least, six months for a party in the State to come to the same conclusion, and possibly another three months added, to study up maps, etc., along the route. This difference in alertness cannot be accounted for through climatic reasonings. It is an unborn desire to travel.

A well known Honoluluian, a noted globe trotter who makes frequent trips to the States, in fact he has just returned from an extended tour. While in Wall, Nichols Co.'s store the other day standing by the sale of the Boston Lyric Opera Co. was heard by a BULLETIN reporter to say: "I saw the Boston Lyrics in Portland, Oregon, a few weeks ago. I must confess it was a difficult matter for me to get a seat, so crowded was the opera house. The performance was 'Maritana,' and it was unquestionably one of the best production of opera I have ever witnessed. If there is any doubt as to this company's excellence in this city it can be dispelled at once. Eight weeks will not be too long an engagement in Honolulu when the people once find out how great an organization of singing is in their midst."

ANOTHER PLOT IN MANILA.

Manila, Oct. 5, 6:20 p. m.—The Archbishop of Manila has informed General Otis that there was a plot on foot to burn the residences of the Governor-General and the Archbishop, together with several Government buildings and banks, but the plot failed to materialize, possibly because of a display of force.

The first reports regarding the affair at Parangue last night appear to have been much exaggerated. The facts are that a small band of insurgents, following the bay road, poured a volley into the village, and later another into Los Pinos, with the result that two or three houses were burned. The cracking of the bamboo caused it to be reported in Manila that there had been much shooting.

The United States transport Warren, from San Francisco, with 1200 recruits, has arrived.

The United States gunboat Wheeling from Vancouver, March 3, via Honolulu, while passing St. Vincent in Northern Luzon, shot down a Filipino flag. The Filipinos fired a volley at the Wheeling's men, who were sleeping on deck, and the Wheeling bombarded the settlement.

Curfew Law.

Ah Chew, a Chinese boy, was arrested last night under the curfew law. The little fellow was trying to make a little money by holding the back of a Japanese. The prosecuting attorney asked for a small fine but Judge Wilcox answered that it was a different case from that of some of the hoodlums who roam about town at night and, reprimanding the little fellow, allowed him to go.

One of the attorneys in the room asked a friend why if the police were going to start in on the curfew law, they did not rope in the children who go to the Orpheum and others who roam about the streets after 9 o'clock every night.

Returned Kamases.

Among the kamases who returned in the Mariposa this morning were the following.

T. F. Dredge, formerly of T. H. Davies & Co. but now of the Crane Co. of San Francisco.

J. F. Soper of the Hawaiian News Co. who has been in the States about three months on business and pleasure combined.

W. O. Atwater, E. Halstead and wife, T. J. Higgins of Olas, H. A. Isenberg of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd.; John Kidwell, the pineapple man, A. C. Lovekin, real estate agent; Miss McIntyre, Miss Kenton and E. E. Paxton.

Venezuela Border Decided.

Paris, Oct. 2.—By the direction of the Anglo-Venezuelan Arbitration Commission some of Great Britain's claims as to the interior and on the coast are disallowed. Her frontier will start at the Waini River. The award was unanimous. It was considered in the nature of a compromise, rather than as favoring Venezuela.

LOVED ON ACCOUNT OF HIS ENEMIES.

"Money," said the philosopher, "may often do more harm than good. Sometimes the mighty dollar is a man's worst enemy."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "and I often feel a number of people love me for the enemies I have made."

But he did not mention what a staunch friend his Sterling Bicycle had always been to him.

Myrtilla: "Let me explain basket ball to you, Mr. Ambrose. The object, you know—"

Mr. Ambrose: "Oh, I understand the object, Miss Myrtilla. The object is to hit some innocent bystander who has on twenty dollar eye-glasses."

The P. C. & M'g Co. has both basket balls and goals, imported direct from Spalding Brothers.

Likely Purchaser: "By the way, your manager has just lately been married."

Head Salesman: "Yes, oh yes. Sterling bicycle people are to blame for that."

Purchaser: "That's interesting; what did they have to do with it?"

Head Salesman for P. C. & M'g Co.: "Well, you see, he took the young lady out on the Sterling Tandem we have here, and it ran so easy he thought she was doing all the work, and the same thing was passing through her mind. They both thought how nice it would be to have things always that way. They didn't know those Sterlings were to blame."

Purchaser: "Well, I guess you can set up that same Sterling wheel for me."

Did you know that the P. C. & M'g Co. will make your old wheel look like new for $6? Well, they will; try them.
